

What to look for in a

WORKERS' COMPENSATION ATTORNEY

When you're hurt on the job, you don't just need a lawyer, you need the right lawyer.

Look for an attorney who:

1) Focuses their practice on workers' comp and has handled many cases like yours.

2) Is a member of professional groups that advocate for injured workers and has won awards for practicing workers' compensation law.

3) Takes an interest in the details of your case and asks follow-up questions.

4) Makes you feel at ease discussing your injury and medical care.

Remember, workers' comp is a challenging process.

The right lawyer will make all the difference.
